

Budapest – Aquincum

WELL PRESERVED ROMAN HERITAGE

In 89 AD the Romans founded the military camp of Aquincum, where the later emperor Hadrian served as proconsul. Dive back into Roman times in “Aquincum Museum and Ruin Gardens” where you can find many well-preserved Roman ruins like an Amphitheatre. It shows monumental statues, impressive mosaics and the best-preserved organ from antiquity. Not far from the ruins of “Thermae Maiores” thermal baths.

LIVING SPA HISTORY

Hungary's capital is famous for its spa culture and offers many architecturally extraordinary thermal baths from different eras. Gellért Bath is a beautiful art nouveau bath from the early 20th century. One of the city's biggest thermal baths is the palace-like Széchenyi bath. Don't wonder if you see people playing chess in the thermal pools – this is one of the inhabitants' favourite hobbies.

BIGGEST THERMAL SPA IN EUROPE

Budapest is not only the biggest thermal spa in Europe but also the only one, which is a country's capital. Its 120 thermal springs build Budapest's reputation as “City of Spas”. Enjoy a soothing medical wellness treatment in the luxurious Danubius Health Spa Resort Margitsziget beautifully located on Margaret Island in river Danube. Aquaworld Resort offers many exciting waterslides but also relaxing wellness treatments.

BUZZING METROPOLIS

The neo-Gothic parliament building, Buda Castle and Saint Stephen's Basilica are only three of Budapest's world-class sights. Go for stroll along the Danube riverside, cross one of the nine bridges and enjoy the unique panorama of this buzzing metropolis.

Culture & historical Thermal baths in Budapest, Hungary

Budapest, the capital of Hungary, is the perfect destination to combine a rich cultural experience with medical or wellness treatments. The healing thermal waters improve health and well-being. Nature has been especially generous with Hungary: It has one of the richest geothermal and medicinal water resources in the world. The local culture of bathing goes back 2000 years. Excavated remains demonstrate that the Romans discovered and exploited these thermal water resources.
